

King Edward VI School Lichfield

School Aims and Curriculum Principles

At King Edward VI School we are keen to achieve excellence – excellence for all students and excellence in all areas of the school. Our strategic and development planning is guided by this ambition.

Aims:

- We want everyone in our school to develop to their full potential.
- We value qualities of self-esteem, confidence, satisfaction and enjoyment through effort and achievement.
- We show a sense of responsibility for one another and for the school community as a whole.

School Aims ratified by Governors 05.11.98 – Minute Number 11/98 6

Curriculum Principles:

- We aim to offer a broad and balanced curriculum which enables students to develop into creative, independent, open-minded, well qualified citizens with transferable skills.
- There must be quality of opportunity in access to the curriculum and enough flexibility to offer appropriate programmes to accommodate the range of students that we have.
- The Curriculum must promote high achievement for all students in relation to their ability.
